Notice of Trial Conference

TRIAL CONFERENCE
Vancouver Robson Square Small Claims Court Pilot – Rule 7.5

This fact sheet provides information on trial conferences and how to prepare for them. The trial conference is a new process included in the provincial small claims court pilot project underway at Vancouver Robson Square. The pilot is a joint justice reform initiative of the Provincial Court and the provincial government.

What is a trial conference?

A trial conference is a half-hour conference with a judge that takes place before your case proceeds to trial. A trial conference is held if your case is exempted from mediation or did not settle at mediation. At the trial conference the judge will review the claim and determine the amount of time needed for trial. The judge may make other orders for the hearing of the trial. The judge may also decide on any issues that do not require evidence, dismiss claims which are without reasonable grounds or an abuse of the court's process or give a non-binding opinion on the probable outcome of the trial.

Who attends the trial conference?

The person responsible for presenting your case at the trial must attend. That may either be you as the party, your lawyer, or your insurer (if your insurer is defending a claim made against you). You may also bring a lawyer or articled student with you. Witnesses should not attend.

How do I prepare for the trial conference?

The Robson Square court registry will send you a Notice of Trial Conference and a trial statement form (form 33) showing the date of your trial conference.

The trial statement is a form which summarizes your case. Before the trial conference the judge will review the trial statement filed by you and the other parties. At least 14 days before your trial conference you must file your trial statement at the court registry. You must serve the other parties with your trial statement at least seven (7) days before the trial conference.

To complete your trial statement follow the directions on the form. You can also find the form at: www.gov.bc.ca – type "court services" in the search bar. You must attach a statement of facts in date order, a calculation of the amount claimed, copies of the relevant documents, and a list of witnesses you intend to call with a brief summary of what each witness will say. Unless the nature of the document renders it impossible, the Trial Statement, and every document attached, must be reproduced on 8 1/2 inch x 11 inch paper, single-sided and unbound.

If you will need an interpreter for your trial conference you must make arrangements beforehand for an interpreter to attend. Please contact the Robson Square court registry for more information.

What do I bring to the trial conference?

You should bring your trial statement and the trial statements you received from the other parties. You should also bring your calendar because the judge may direct you to schedule a trial date.

What if I need to change the date of the trial conference?

If you cannot make the date set for your trial conference you can request to have the date changed. You should first ask all the other parties to agree in writing to the change. If they agree, then you can file a consent order, with their written consents, at the Robson Square court registry.

If you are unable to reach an agreement with all the parties, you may file an application to the registrar (form 16). The application must explain the reason you want to change the date and that you asked the other parties for their consent. The application must be filed with the court registry at least seven (7) days prior to the trial conference date. If the application is granted by the registrar, a new date will be set for your trial conference.

What happens if I don't attend the trial conference?

If you are the claimant, your claim may be dismissed. If you are the defendant, a payment order may be made against you.

Is this pilot project being evaluated?

Yes. Starting in the fall 2008 and into early 2009, a research firm will conduct a telephone survey of some of the parties who have gone through Small Claims Court. No identifying information will be used in the survey report.

Although participation in the survey is optional, the evaluation will be very important in determining whether the changes to the small claims process will be used or modified in other parts of the province. It will be helpful, therefore, if you can take the time to provide feedback if contacted through the survey.

Section A. Statement of Facts

Cavaliere Financial & Management Inc. Vs. Imogo Mobile Technologies Corp.

A. Statement of Facts

Paragraph 1:

Cavaliere Financial & Management Inc. (CFMI) contracted to provide consulting services to Imogo Mobile Technologies Corp. Located at #203, 4211 Kingsway Street, Burnaby, B.C. V5H 1Z6. The start date was set for May 5th, 2011 and the contract is attached. (See Section C - page 1 – 12)

Stewart Irvine was the CEO /Majority Owner and the person who signed the contract.

The agreement was as follows:

- 1) The base consulting fee was $10K per month for May 2011 to August 2011 (see Article 4 of the contract. Section C – Page 1 of 35). The agreed upon work schedule was three (3) days per week (ie., 24 hours per week). The invoice was payable upon receipt and was submitted at the end of each month.
- 2) The business expenses reimbursement (including lunches, parking & travel) was to be paid separately (see Article 9. Section C – Page 2 of 35). However, these expenses were never submitted. After Stewart cut off my access to the company and did not pay the amount he owed me, I knew he had no intention of paying them.
- 3) My cellular phone expenses were to be paid by Imogo (per Article 9. Section C – Page 2 of 35) as I was available to IMOGO staff seven days per week via cell phone. As a contracted President, having access to me even on the days I wasn't there was important for the running of the company. This was not paid.
- 4) Per Article 9 (Section C – Page 2 of 35) of the signed agreement, there was a car allowance. We discussed this amount verbally during the contract negotiation period and I had told him that $900/month was standard. I did not put the amount in the original contract because we hadn't finalized the actual amount before the contract was signed. I charged Imogo $600/month given I only worked three (3) days per week. This was not paid.
- 5) Starting October 1, 2011, the base consulting fee was to increase to $20K per month for the balance of the year (see Article 4 of the contract. Section C – Page 1 of 35). I would begin working there five (5) days per week at this time.
- 6) There was a three month paid notice period clause in the contract, see Article 13 (see Article 13 of the contract. Section C – Page 3 of 35).

After starting, I began to hear that there were issues with Stewart Irvine/Imogo owing people money. For example, the prior President, David Long, was also owed money (David Long has since filed his lawsuit in Supreme Civil – File # 120351), the shareholders were angry with Stewart, and his ex-girlfriend, Elizabeth Walker, who was also an investor contacted me several times with concerns about the company.

Stewart Irvine, along with his CFO, Ken Maude, convinced me that everything was fine and that the company was solid as Mr. Irvine allegedly had access to further capital.

Paragraph 2:

During the first five months of this contract, invoices were not being paid on time and Stewart Irvine kept asking for extensions for a variety of reasons. Some months he didn't acknowledge the invoices were unpaid until I asked him for payment several times. Invoices were due on the last day of each month. Here was the track record:

- May 31st, 2011 invoice was paid on June 14th
- June 30th, 2011 invoice was paid on July 4th
- July 31st, 2011 invoice was paid on time
- Aug 30th 2011 invoice was paid on Sept 16th
- Sept 30th 2011 invoice was paid on Oct 24th
- May to September 30th invoice for car allowance and cell phone – never paid; ignored
- October 31, 2011 invoice partially paid

See attached email in Section C (EMAIL #1) where he agreed to pay. (See Section C. Page 13 -15 of 35 pages)

We had several conversations about Stewart Irvine's inability to pay me on time, but he always seemed to find excuses and promised he would pay me as soon as possible. At first, I was patient with this but as time went on I began to suspect that this was something that would continue. I told him that I couldn't afford to continue to work for him if he wasn't going to pay. When he paid invoices he would also make comments such as "This is from my kid's education fund." I felt that as time progressed I would be owed larger and larger amounts of money until I was in the same position as the prior President, David Long and others as illustrated in Paragraph 3 below.

Paragraph 3:

Stewart Irvine continued to pay each invoice late and I had to repeatedly ask for payment. Unless I asked, he just ignored the invoices. I told him that I found it difficult to work this way so I offered a potential solution. I stated that if I was going to be at risk of not being paid for my time, then I wanted to do it as a partner in the company – that way I could guarantee that I would be paid for the hard work that I was putting into developing the company and repairing the relationships with the current investors, customers, vendors & employees. Mr. Irvine was not interested in this new working relationship. These conversations happened in late October 2011.

Contact was made with several people who alleged they were owed money by Mr. Irvine/Imogo.

Herman Nilsson and Roland Hanson where among this group. Herman Nilsson had a General Security Agreement on Stewart's house and has since been paid. (A copy of the signed GSA is attached Section C page 17 – 26 of 35 pages). Rowland Hanson, owner of Hanson Maslen Claesson Company LLC -

Cavaliere Financial & Management Inc. Vs. Imogo Mobile Technologies Corp.

Consulting in Kirkland, WA sent me copies of his outstanding invoices. (See Section C page 27 – 35 of 35 pages)

On October 20, 2011, I resigned under Article 13 of the contract, which involved three months notice. As per the contract, I would work for Imogo for the 90 day notice period. If Mr. Irvine did not want me there for the 90 days, he would still be required to pay the outstanding amount as per the signed contract.

I was unable to finish my 90 day notice period under Article 13 because on November 7, 2012, Mr. Irvine changed the codes on the alarm and shut off my access to emails and system (Cloud System). He did not notify me and I found out when I tried to access the system to continue working (see Section C page 16 of 35 pages called EMAIL #2). Without access, I was no longer able to do any work for the company. Mr. Irvine effectively locked me out of the system and building.

With the new knowledge that Mr. Irvine owned many others money, I decided to hire a collections agency to help collect the money owned. These efforts failed and as a result, I decided to use the Small Claims Court to collect on this debt.

Paragraph 4

It should be noted that I made a mistake on the cellular phone bill that was invoiced to Imogo. The original amount invoiced per invoice # 1074 was $1,195.35 and the actual amount per actual Rogers invoices was $893.75. The overage was $301.60 plus HST (12%) being $337.79 ($$301.60 * 1.12$). This amount should be deducted from the total claimed of $14,806.79.

Stewart-

After I thought about everything, I was not happy with how you dealt with me.

Just read your response about paying me in full on OCT 31, this is what I was expecting based on your word.

If you had no intention of paying me in full, why would you send that email.

This seems to happen every month as I have to chase you. This is very demotivating.

I can't work for free and can't feed my family on a hope and promise.

Again, once you pay in full we can proceed.

Renato

Hi Renato;

As you know the current cash/finances of the company are extremely tight and we are not in the position to issue a check; Phil has not been as proactive as I/we had originally expected, but I'm not making the same mistake that I did with Gavin and I've got to get this investor package done so I can get in front of new investors and ask for money. With regard to your $14K balance, I thought we shook hands on an understanding yesterday afternoon that as soon as new money comes in this month you will be caught up. I'm confused with your posture as a number of times over the last couple of weeks I've kindly requested you to forward me the last iteration of Ex summary and proforma, which on Friday you said you'd forward it to me. You know that I'm doing everything that I can to keep this company moving forward and more importantly honor my obligations and financial commitments. I'd appreciate it if you could help me.

Thanks

Stewart

Stewart,

In the attached email you stated I would be paid in full on October 31st.

The balance owing to October 31, 2011 is $14,570.82. This will need to be paid in full before I do any further work.

Stewart-

We didn't address October invoice and expenses.

We should finish October as per the agreement and in Nov/Dec/Jan move it to the new agreement.

Are you in agreement with that?

And can you afford to pay me at Month end?

AND WHEREAS the Debtor agrees that it is in the best interests of the Debtor to provide security to the Creditor in respect of the amounts owing by the Debtor to the Creditor;

AND WHEREAS the Debtor and the Creditor agree that such security should be granted to the Creditor in a comprehensive and complete form, charged against all of the undertaking and assets of the Debtor;

AND WHEREAS this agreement is meant to replace the General Security Agreement of June 4, 2009 between the parties and attached hereto:

In consideration of the premises, the covenants contained herein, the sum of ONE DOLLARS ($1.00) and other good and valuable consideration, the receipt and sufficiency of which is hereby acknowledged, the parties agree as follows:

C. pag 17 of 35

2. The Debtor hereby grants to the Creditor, by way of mortgage, charge, assignment, and transfer, a security interest (hereinafter referred to as the "Security Interest") in the undertaking of the Debtor and in all goods (including all parts, accessories, special tools, additions and accessions thereto), chattel paper, documents of title (whether negotiable or not), instruments, intangibles and securities now owned or hereafter owned or acquired by or on behalf of the Debtor (including such and same as may be returned to or repossessed by the Debtor) and in all proceeds and renewals thereof, accessions thereto and substitutions therefor (hereinafter collectively called the "Collateral") including, without limitation, all of the following now owned or hereafter owned or acquired by or on behalf of the Debtor;

- (a) All inventory of whatever kind and wherever situate (hereinafter called "Inventory");
- (b) All equipment (other than inventory) of whatever kind and wherever situate, including, without limitation, all machinery, tools, apparatus, plant, furniture, fixtures and vehicles of whatsoever nature or kind;

- (e) All contractual rights and insurance claims and all goodwill, patents, trade marks, copyrights, and other industrial or intellectual property;
- (f) All monies other than trust monies lawfully belonging to others;
- (g) All property described in any schedule now or hereafter annexed hereto.

3. The security interest granted by the Debtor to the Creditor shall not extend to or apply to, and the collateral shall not include, the last day of any term of lease or agreement for lease.

C. Page 18 of 35

interest thereon and costs of collection thereof, present or future, direct or indirect, absolute or contingent, matured or not, extended or renewed, wheresoever and howsoever incurred and any ultimate unpaid balance thereof and whether the same is from time to time reduced and thereafter increased or entirely extinguished and thereafter incurred again and whether the Debtor be bound alone or with another or with others and whether as principal or surety (hereinafter collectively called the "indebtedness").

5. The Creditor, in its sole discretion, may declare all or any part of the indebtedness which is not by its terms payable on demand to be immediately due and payable, without demand or notice of any kind, in the event of a default as defined below, or if the Creditor believe in good faith that the prospect of payment of all or any part of the indebtedness or performance of the Debtor's obligations under this agreement or any other agreement now or hereafter in effect between the Debtor and the Creditor is impaired. The provisions of this clause shall not affect the right of the Creditor with respect to indebtedness which may now or hereafter be payable on demand.

6. The happening of any of the following events or the fulfilling of any of the following events shall constitute default hereunder (hereinafter called "Default"):

- (a) failure to pay when due, whether by acceleration or otherwise, any principal or interest forming part of the indebtedness or any failure of the Debtor to observe or perform any obligation, covenant, term, provision or condition contained in this security agreement or any other agreement between the Debtor and the Creditor;
- (b) the bankruptcy or insolvency of the Debtor including the filing against the Debtor of a petition in bankruptcy, the making of an assignment for the benefit of any creditors of the Debtor, the appointment of a receiver or trustee for the Debtor or for any assets of the Debtor or the institution by or against the Debtor of any other type of insolvency proceeding under the Bankruptcy Act or otherwise;
- (c) the institution by or against the Debtor of any formal or informal proceeding for the dissolution or liquidation or settlement or claim against or winding up affairs of the Debtor;
- (d) any encumbrance affecting collateral becoming enforceable against the collateral;
- (e) if the Debtor ceases or threatens to cease to carry on business or makes or agrees to make a bulk sale of assets or commits or threatens to commit an act of bankruptcy; thereof.

7. Upon default the Creditor may appoint by instrument in writing any person to be a receiver and manager of the collateral and may remove any receiver so appointed and appoint another in his stead. Any such receiver shall, so far as responsibility for his acts is concerned, be deemed to be the agent of the Debtor and not of the Creditor and the Creditor shall not in any way be responsible for any misconduct, negligence or nonfeasance on the part of any such receiver, his servants, agents or employees.

Subject to the provisions of the instrument appointing him any such Receiver shall have the power to take possession of the collateral, to preserve the collateral of its value, to carry on or concur in the carrying on of all or any part of the business of the Debtor and to sell, lease or otherwise dispose of or concur in the selling, leasing or other disposition of the collateral.

To facilitate the foregoing powers any such Receiver may, to the exclusion of all others, including the Debtor, enter upon, use and occupy all premises owned or occupied by the Debtor wherein the collateral may be situate, maintain collateral upon such premises, borrow money on a secured or unsecured basis and use collateral directly in carrying on the Debtor's business or as security for loans or advances to enable him to carry on the Debtor's business or otherwise as such Receiver shall, in his sole discretion, determine.

Except as may be otherwise directed by the Creditor, all monies received from time to time by such Receiver in carrying out his appointment shall be received in trust for and paid over to the Creditor. Every such receiver may, in the discretion of the Creditor, be vested with all or any of the rights and powers of the Creditor.

8. Upon default the Creditor may, either directly or through its agents or nominees, exercise all of the powers and rights given to a Receiver by virtue of the foregoing section

9. The Creditor may take possession of, collect, demand, sue on, enforce, recover and receive collateral and give valid and binding receipts and discharges therefor and with respect thereof and upon default, the Creditor may sell, lease or otherwise dispose of collateral in such manner, at such time or times and place or places and for such consideration and upon such terms and conditions as to the Creditor may seem reasonable.

10. In the event any provision of this security agreement, as amended from time to time, shall be deemed invalid or void, in whole or in part, by any court of competent jurisdiction, the remaining terms and provisions of this security agreement shall remain in full force and effect.

partial exercise thereof shall preclude any other or further exercise thereof or the exercise of any other right or remedy. Further, the Creditor may remedy any default of the Debtor hereunder or with respect to any indebtedness in any reasonable manner without waiving any other prior or subsequent default of the Debtor. All rights and remedies of the Creditor granted or recognized herein are cumulative and may be exercised any time and from time to time independently or in combination.

12. This security agreement and the security afforded hereby is in addition to and not in substitution for any other security now or hereafter held by the Creditor and is, and is intended to be, a continuing security agreement and shall remain in full force and effect until the Creditor shall in writing discharge the security agreement.

13. This agreement shall enure to the benefit of and be binding upon the parties hereto and their respective heirs, executors, administrators, successors and assigns.

- 12.6 Failure by either party to insist upon strict adherence to any one or more of the terms or conditions of this Agreement, on one or more occasions, shall not be construed as a waiver, nor deprive the party of the right to require strict compliance with the same thereafter.
